

Declaration issued by former Minister J.G.Zizhdia

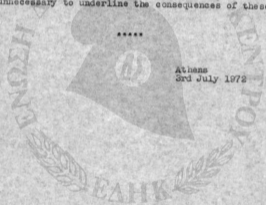

After Vice-President Agnew, Secretary of Defence Laird, Secretary of Commerce Stans, the turn has come for the Secretary of State William Rogers to pay a "courtesy visit" to the military regime - despite the fact that he has repeatedly expressed his disappointment at "the slow pace in the restoration of democracy in Greece."

And the question arises naturally, taking on special emphasis on the eve of the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence of the USA:

Which representative of the US government will eventually pay a visit to the allied people of his country, who have been in bondage for the last five years? Or better, when is the US government going to understand its obligations to the people of Greece, deriving from the immortal spirit of the Declaration of the 4th July 1776, as well as from the imperative wording of the Treaty of Alliance?

It is unnecessary to underline the consequences of these inconsistencies

Athens
3rd July 1972

Declaration issued by J. G. Zografis.

After Vice-President Agnew, ~~Assistant~~ Secretary of Defense
Said, Secretary of Commerce Stans, the turn has come for the Secretary of State for ~~Foreign~~ William Rogers to pay a "courtesy visit" to the military regime - despite the fact that he has repeatedly expressed his disappointment at ~~for~~ ^{the} ~~the~~ slow pace ^{in the} towards restriction of democracy in Greece.

And the question arises naturally, ~~not~~ taking special explain in the eve of the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence of the U.S.A.:

Which representative of the U.S. government will eventually pay a visit to the alleged ^{people} of his country who have been in bondage for the last five years?
Do we ^{visit} ~~specify~~ when in the U.S. Government going to undertake ~~their~~ ^{its} obligation towards the people of Greece deriving from the immortal spirit of the Declaration of 4th July 1776, as well as from the ^{imperative} ~~categorical~~ ^{work} of the Treaty of Alliance?

It is ~~needed~~ ^{unnecessary} to underline the consequences of these ~~inconsequence~~ ^{inconsequences}.

Athens 2nd July.